STARTING THE MEASUREMENT

Start the measurement by pressing the "RESET" key, you can always see the step counter before you press the "RESET" key again.

TROUBLESHOOTING

Not all of your steps were detected
- mount the pedometer closer to the center of your body.

If the LCD is showing slow response
- temperature has been below 0 degrees, the display returns to normal when the temperature rises.

If the LCD is black- the pedometer has been put in direct sunlight too long. It will return to normal in the shade.

REPLACING THE BATTERY

When the display becomes blurry, this indicates that the battery power has nearly run out.

To replace the battery, open the back cover by removing the screws with a screwdriver. Replace the battery then screw down the back case before use.
